Immersive Learning and Education to Peace: REACT Final Conference

More than 40 Students, Teachers and Experts from Italy, Greece, Germany, Bulgaria and Spain experienced the power of their teachings with us as we engaged in real-time discussions on educational methods that nurture peace and harmony. Immersed in Dolci's Reciprocal Maieutic Approach and Montessori's pacifist education principles, timeless philosophies that can revolutionize our society through learning.

The piloting in schools is a significant milestone in this journey. Students and teachers were protagonists of this inspiring session, contributing to a global dialogue on peace.

Their stories are about 900 students who piloted the REACT Model with 80 teachers and more than 20 schools involved in 5 EU Countries.

INTERNATIONAL RMA WORKSHOPS

At the heart of Maria Montessori and Danilo Dolci's education is a shared vision: education as an instrument of peace.

Inspired by Socrates' midwifery metaphor, the Reciprocal Maieutic Approach encourages dialogue, exploration, and collective discovery. It's a process where knowledge emerges from shared experiences, intuition, and reciprocal communication.

We enjoyed International RMA workshops under the Montessori Tree, with the facilitation of Amico Dolci, a Danilo's son.
